Carmel Valley Youth Baseball League opens with Bilbray pitch

The sounds of children at play and balls against leather heralded the March 6 opening of Carmel Valley Youth Baseball League's (CVYBL) fifth season of service to the youth from local communities. Opening day activities took place at the Sycamore Ridge Elementary baseball fields and featured former Little Leaguer and now District U.S. Congressman Brian P. Bilbray, who tossed out the ceremonial first pitch. To the cheers of more than 160 boys and girls, their families and friends, Congressman Bilbray threw a "perfect strike" in response to the call to "Play Ball!"

With his own children and their friends in mind, the CVYBL was founded in 2005 by local Carmel Valley resident and dad, Michael Perrone in an effort to bring a quality structured baseball program to children too young to play in Little League.

With a cadre of professionally experienced coaches and active volunteers, CVYBL remains focused on providing the young ball player with the best of fundamental instruction in a fun exposure to the great game of baseball.

Perrone has been an active volunteer in local youth programs since he and his family moved to Carmel Valley in 2002. Stating that he loves what he does and knowing his efforts are creating positive influences in children's lives, make all the work worthwhile. He stated that "My Saturdays from now until Memorial Day are booked starting with my son's and daughter's games in the morning to finishing up with the Carmel Valley Youth Baseball games around 5 p.m. The smiles on the children's faces make it all worth while."
